

KELLY SAYS IT'S "UP TO SEIBERT"

Seibert's Deputy Replies the Chief Is to Blame,
SALOONS VIOLATE 1 A. M. ORDER
FORTY-SEVEN CASES HAVE BEEN REPORTED IN AUGUST.

Of These Six Were Reported Twice. One License Was Revoked and the Others Escaped With a Warning.

"It's up to Seibert," exclaimed Chief of Police Kelly when asked about saloon keepers who violate the excise order by keeping open after 1 a. m.

Chief Kelly sent out a general order to his 12 police captains Thursday ordering them to instruct patrolmen to report immediately every instance in which a saloon keeper failed to close his place at 1 o'clock.

"Do you know of any saloons being kept open after 1 a. m.?" Chief Kelly was asked.

"I do not, I am in bed at 1 a. m.," he replied.

"Do not patrolmen on post at 1 a. m. report saloons that are open?"

"I suppose they do," he replied. "Every day I get reports of saloons violating the closing law and I send them to Seibert. I can't close the saloons. There is no law to that purpose. The 1 o'clock closing order is simply a rule established by the excise commissioner. It is not an ordinance and my men can not go into a saloon and take out the keeper of the place simply because he does not close at 1 o'clock."

"How many violations of this rule have you reported to the excise commissioner?"

"Well, I don't know exactly. Hardly a day passes that I do not make a report to him. Friday morning, for instance, he reported four violations. They run from one to six a day."

"Do you do anything further to keep the saloons closed from 1 a. m. to 5 a. m.?"

"It is not my business. It's up to Seibert."

"Is it possible that police officers are receiving money or favors from saloonmen when they are lenient when they violate the excise law?"

"Well, I guess I would know it if they were. No, sir, since there are no saloonmen keeping saloons giving up money to patrolmen."

GULF CITIES IN TROPICAL STORM

Waters of Mobile Bay, Driven by Winds, Three Feet Deep in Heart of the City.
THE FLOOD IS NOW RECEDING

NO LOSS OF LIFE REPORTED, BUT ISLANDS ALONG COAST HAVE NOT BEEN HEARD FROM.

SEA ROSE AS HIGH AS 1893

So Far as Known, No Great Damage Was Inflicted at Biloxi, Bay St. Louis and Other Resorts.

The West India hurricane which swept in from the gulf and covered the coast from Galveston to Mobile is diminishing in intensity and veering to the northeast.

So far as reported, no lives have been lost in the gulf cities in the track of the storm, but the islands along the coast have not been heard from. The people there have been in greatest peril.

From 4:30 yesterday afternoon until 9 a. m. today Mobile was cut off from telegraphic communication with other cities.

Meantime the water, like a tidal wave, driven into the bay by the gulf gale, backed up to a depth of over three feet in the heart of the commercial district and caused a panic among the people.

IN THE HEART OF THE CITY.
The offices of the Western Union Telegraph Co. and of the Postal Telegraph Co. are on opposite corners in the central district of Mobile. They are at the intersection of Royal and McMichael streets, which would approximate Broadway and Olive in St. Louis. These offices were abandoned yesterday afternoon.

Less than one block away from the telegraph offices which, it is said, are under three feet of water, is the Battle House, Mobile's principal hotel.

Mobile, like New Orleans, is situated on a perfect flat. It fronts on the Mobile river, and Mobile bay is almost two miles away from the business districts of the city.

To reach the city the water from the bay must back up through Mobile river and overflow its small banks, there being no opposing levees. The wholesale and cotton shipping district is located along the river front, and on adjacent streets corresponding with the levee, and Main and Second streets in St. Louis.

Before it could reach the uptown telegraph offices the water must have covered all of the business houses in the wholesale district, but not deeper than three or four feet, owing to the almost flat surface of the city.

Mobile lies on the west bank of the Mobile river at this point, really all part of Mobile bay. It is 20 miles from the Gulf of Mexico and 16 miles from New Orleans.

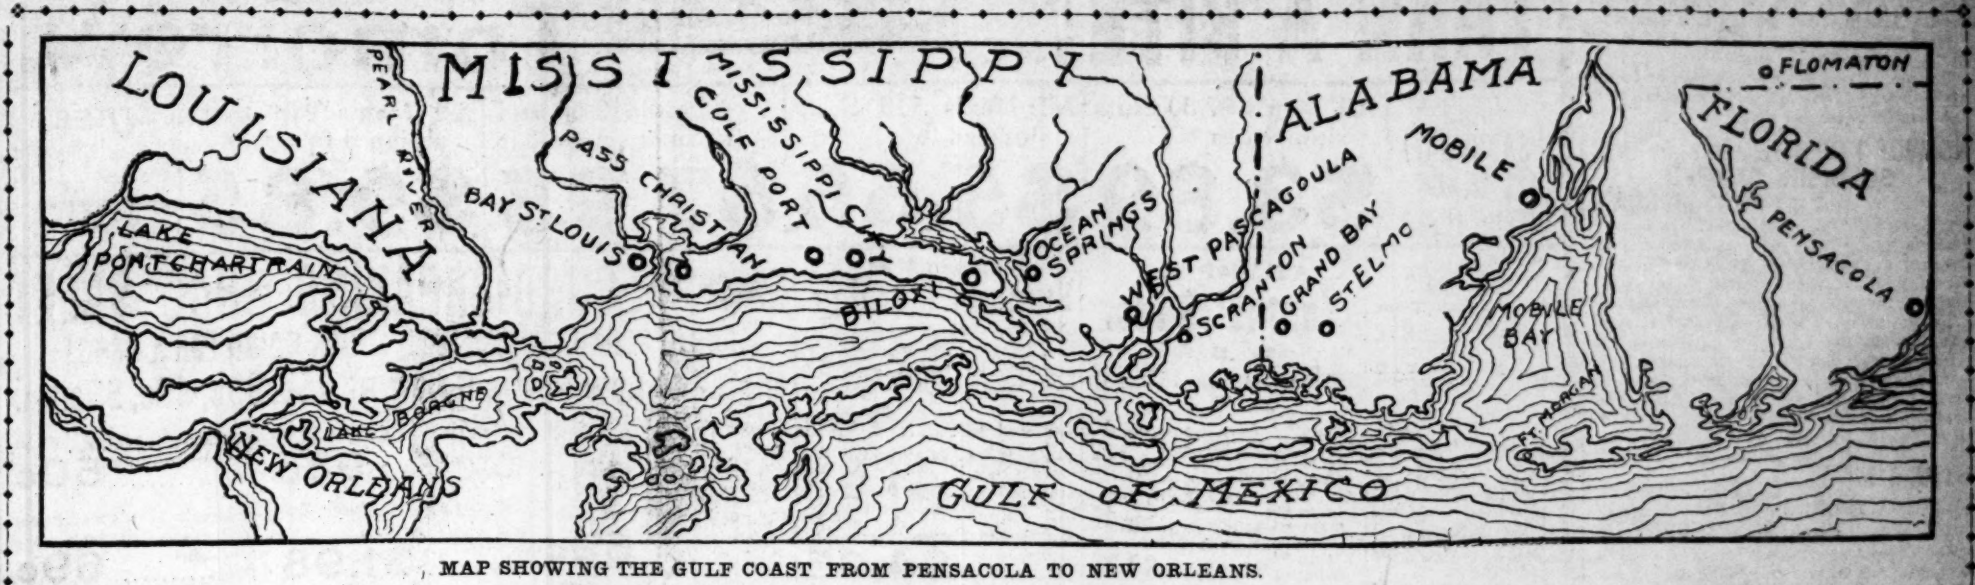

ON A SANDY PLAIN
The general site of the city is on a sandy plain, about 15 feet above the level of Mobile bay. The harbor admits vessels drawing 13 feet of water. The bay extends inland from the gulf about 20 miles, and is from 8 to 15 miles wide. On the islands in the bay are located many popular summer resorts. Fort Morgan, on Dolphin Island, guards the entrance from the sea into the bay.

Pensacola is situated on Pensacola bay, which extends from the gulf landward 30 miles. Other gulf coast towns in the track of the hurricane are Scranton, Pascagoula, Ocean Springs, Biloxi, Mississippi City, Gulfport, Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis; they are located on the gulf coast, between Mobile and New Orleans.

All of these cities are favorite resorts and have large hotels, many of which are well filled with guests from the middle western states.

No reports have been received to indicate that anything serious had befallen any of these cities.

REGION OVER WHICH THE WEST INDIA HURRICANE RAGED FOR 24 HOURS

PATH OF THE STORM NORTHWARD.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 16.—Weather Forecaster Harbury said of the storm conditions today.

"The storm that has prevailed along the gulf for the past few days is now confined principally to the eastern portion of the Mississippi Valley—the storm center this morning being over Meridian, Miss. The path of the storm seems to be in a northerly and northeasterly direction. Normal barometric pressure is reported as far north as Cincinnati."

"The disturbance has caused heavy rains over Alabama and northern Georgia, while to the westward the rainfall in the past 24 hours has been light. The storm is apparently moving a trifle east of north, in the direction of the eastern Ohio Valley, and its influence will doubtless be felt in that section on Saturday."

Among the heavy rainfalls reported were:

Mobile	3.78
Meridian	3.62
Montgomery	2.56
Atlanta	1.90
Knoxville	1.14

New Orleans and Mobile. It is the same sort of a storm that struck Galveston last year. This is the season of the year at which they are most likely to occur.

"About New Orleans the severity of the storm is evidently abating. Government reports from there this morning show that the barometer is higher than yesterday morning, that the velocity of the wind is not so great and that the river is falling."

"Reports from Mobile this morning show that there was nearly four inches of rain at Mobile yesterday. That is a terribly heavy downpour. But reports from Montgomery, Ala., show that there were two and one-half inches of rain at that place yesterday."

"The barometer is lower there than at Mobile, and the indications are that Montgomery is right in the path of the storm."

It will probably come north through Alabama, Tennessee and the Ohio valley.

"The course of the storm from its inception has been northeast, but there is a high barometric area over the southern Atlantic coast which will deflect it from its original course and turn it more northward."

"At Montgomery this morning the wind is reported as blowing at the rate of 32 miles an hour."

"Montgomery is, fortunately, too far inland, though, to be in great danger from the tidal wave that Mobile and New Orleans were. Mobile is in greater danger than New Orleans as it is closer to the gulf, being right on Mobile Bay, while New Orleans is a good many miles from the mouth of the Mississippi."

OLD CITY HALL SHIELDS LEPER

Nurse Is Wanted for Stricken Dong Gong.

THREE APPLICANTS FOR JOB

HOUSE FOR SUFFERER.

There, With a Caretaker, He Will Reside at City's Expense, Until the Inevitable End Comes.

St. Louis incurred a heavy responsibility when Dong Gong, Chinese laundryman, entered the city's portals a few years ago.

How great this responsibility is and how great an expense the city must undergo in meeting it the officials of the Health Department, who have Gong on their hands as a fully developed leper, are now finding out.

The duty of caring for the stricken leper in a humane manner and the even greater duty of protecting the public from the possibility of contagion from the dread disease from which he suffers, are fully appreciated by the department officials, who are now preparing to build for Dong Gong and a nurse, who is yet to be secured, a home near the quarantine station, south of the city.

Plans for getting the leper out of the city's care were discussed and finally abandoned at Thursday afternoon's meeting of the board of health. It was found that no institution exists to which Dong Gong could be sent, and that if such a place could be found neither railroad nor steamboats would transport him there.

It was decided to build a house, costing about $200, for the occupancy of the leper and his nurse, and to make arrangements for the leper's care when he was carried out. On Assistant Health Commissioner Francis has devolved the task of finding a nurse, who must also act as guard, for the leper.

Three Applicants
For the Position.
Three applications for the position, which will pay $50 a month and board, have already been made to Mr. Francis, who is not yet ready to announce his selection.

One of the applicants is an inmate of the City Poorhouse, a fairly able-bodied man of 35 years, who has had some experience in nursing. A second is a former nurse in the City Poorhouse, who has been employed in the health department.

This position is one which will last for years with anyone who takes it," said Mr. Francis Friday. "It will be one of great danger. Whoever takes it must go into it with his eyes open."

"For two or three years to come the danger of contracting leprosy by associating with Dong Gong will not be great. After this time it will increase."

"Every precaution will be taken to protect the public. He will sleep under the same roof with the Chinese, but in an apartment so separated from Dong's room as to be equivalent to a different house. The chances will be in favor of the nurse, but there will be a risk, and a great one."

"Since Father Damien laid down his life for the lepers in Molokai, there have been several instances in which the nursing of lepers has been undertaken, either through philanthropic motives or for the sake of a livelihood. Some of the nurses have escaped contagion. Others have not."

WOMAN IS HELD UNDER WARRANT

May Cupples Charged With Manslaughter.

EDWARD ALEXANDER'S DEATH

BOUGHT THE FATAL POISON.

Witnesses Say That She Admits That She Saw Him Take It, but Claims That He Committed Suicide—Rigid Investigation.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson stated Friday that he would issue a warrant charging manslaughter on Saturday against May Cupples, who admits having given Edward Alexander the poison with which he committed suicide at 303 Chestnut street, where she lived.

Alexander was the son of a prominent family of North Vernon, Ind., and it was as a result of his father's efforts that the investigation leading up to the application for a warrant against the Cupples woman was hastened.

The charge of manslaughter, which covers the assisting of any person to commit self-murder, fixes the punishment at a term of imprisonment in the penitentiary of not less than five years. The maximum punishment is imprisonment for life.

The assistant prosecutor reached his decision after carefully reviewing the evidence with former Gov. Charles J. Johnson.

Gov. Johnson gave it as his opinion that when the grand jury indicted, the charge would be murder in the second degree, but that a first degree murder charge would be made if Cupples admitted having administered the fatal dose.

Alexander, the victim of the poison, was 21 years old, and was the son of prominent North Vernon, Ind., family. He had been in St. Louis for a few months when he died. He met Mrs. May Cupples and did not know that she was a married woman, because of infatuation with her.

She appeared to favor his suit. After this she learned of the attachment he had made and she in turn decided to end her life. She swallowed arsenic without making any statement.

Asked Her to Choose Between Them.
The Cupples woman, in her statement, declares that Alexander, after asking her if she loved her husband better than she did him, and getting an unfavorable reply, took some morphine from her hand and swallowed it.

Then she says that he kissed her good-bye and said down to go to sleep and to die. She, in turn, entered the bathroom, according to her own statement, and after remaining there for half an hour, returned and found one of the inmates of the house that Alexander was dying upstairs.

Col. Johnson says that in view of the statements of other witnesses he cannot credit her statement. Ida Johnson, a colored servant, swore that Mrs. Cupples sent her for the poison, and paid her not to say anything about it.

Charles Kennedy, a colored cook in a restaurant, swore that on the night before Alexander was poisoned he saw May Cupples in conversation with a person unknown to him, and that Alexander would not live to see Saturday morning.

WISHED TO END YEARS OF PAIN

J. D. Tiffin Dying From Self-Given Wound.

BURST CEREBRAL ARTERY 30 YEARS AGO WHILE DANCING.

Pain Never Left Him—Was Under Treatment at Mayfield Sanitarium When He Committed the Deed.

Having suffered for 30 years as the result of rupturing a cerebral artery while dancing, J. D. Tiffin of Greenville, Ill., 72 years old, cut his throat with his pocket knife at the Mayfield Sanitarium early Friday morning. Dr. Mayfield says that Mr. Tiffin is beyond recovery.

The patient has been at the sanitarium since July 21, under the care of Dr. H. W. Herman, who was treating him for weakness of heart action. Mrs. Tiffin is with him.

Mr. Tiffin is a well-to-do farmer and stock raiser, being associated in business with his son. He owns 80 head of cattle and has been much distressed of late lest the dry weather should be fatal to them. This, however, appears to have had nothing to do with his determination to commit suicide.

At a dance, 30 years ago, Mr. Tiffin became overheated and a blood vessel in his head was ruptured. He says that he has suffered intensely and almost constantly ever since.

He was sprightly and cheerful, however, and gave no indication of suicidal intention. At the sanitarium he was perfectly sane and intelligent. He was perfectly sane and intelligent. He was perfectly sane and intelligent.

"We are trying to pull you through," said Dr. Mayfield, "and you must help us."

"I don't want to be pulled through," replied Mr. Tiffin. "I have suffered enough for so many years. It is better for me to die now than to live on like this. I am tired and I want to die. Nobody is to blame for this but myself. I can't stand the pain any longer, and I want to die as soon as possible."

Mrs. Tiffin says that the news of a suicide has always deeply depressed her husband. Since the rupturing of the cerebral artery he has said several times that some day he might be compelled to kill himself, but his wife had no intimation that he contemplated the deed at this time.

FOREST PARK KEEPER WEDS.

William S. Lamar and Miss Marie A. Dubois Quietly Married.

William S. Lamar, keeper of Forest Park, was married Thursday afternoon to Miss Marie A. Dubois. The ceremony was performed by Circuit Judge William Zachris at his residence on Lafayette avenue.

After the nuptial knot had been tied Mr. Lamar and his bride repaired to Forest Park and took supper at the Cottage. The wedding of Mr. Lamar was something of a surprise to his friends, as he had not generally announced his matrimonial intentions.

The only guests at the wedding supper were Senator Schweickhardt, the Cottage proprietor, Park Commissioner Ridgely and Joseph P. Whyte.

In applying for their marriage license the bride gave her address merely as St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Lamar will reside in the comfortable home which the city provides for the keeper of the park near the Union avenue entrance.

RAIN NOT YET TO BE TAPPED

Dr. Hyatt Says Weather Probably Will Continue Fair, May Be Unsettled.

Dr. Hyatt predicted Friday morning that the weather in St. Louis probably would be fair Friday night and probably fair Saturday.

The general condition of the weather in the United States, he predicted, was described as "unsettled."

Almost any kind of weather may develop and not disturb the correctness of these prognostications.

The doctor says that St. Louisans are in no danger of catching a whiff of the Southern storm. He figures that it will come northward from the gulf, but if it comes as far north as St. Louis, that it will pass to the east of the World's Fair city.

TO BRING BACK CUBAN BRIDE.

Lieut. Watterson Weds Senorita Blanche Casanova.

Lieut. Henry Watterson, Jr., post quartermaster at Jefferson Barracks, was married in Philadelphia, Pa., Thursday to Senorita Blanche Casanova of Cienfuegos, Cuba.

After a short honeymoon Lieut. Watterson and his bride will take up their residence at Jefferson Barracks.

Prior to returning to St. Louis, the young couple will spend several days at the Atlantic coast and then make a visit to the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watterson, at their country home, Mansfield, near Louisville.

Lieut. Watterson is a son of the editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Juan Casanova. Her sister is the wife of Lieut. Benton.

Lieut. Watterson met her while on duty at Cienfuegos with the Tenth Infantry. He has since been transferred to the Twenty-ninth Infantry.

clared Press wire from its place in the board, sent this message:

"Am on top of the switchboard here with a line man. The water is over three feet deep in this room and it is still rising. The wind is blowing at the rate of 50 miles an hour and we look for worse things to-night. The business district is deserted."

"Here the wires failed and nothing more could be heard from him."

The water was reported as high as in the great flood of 1893, although at that time the wind was not as high.

NO WORD OF THE SOLDIERS CAMPED AT FORT MORGAN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Some uneasiness is felt at the war department concerning the military posts at Mobile Bay, especially at Fort Morgan, where the Eighth and Ninety-ninth Companies of coast artillery are stationed. Fort Morgan and the military posts are on a sand spit about 13 feet above tide. No reports have been received at the department concerning these posts. The two batteries are under command of Maj. Luigi Lomia. The batteries consist of about 100 men each.

STORM MAY HAVE PASSED AROUND GALVESTON.

The latest information from Galveston is contained in the following Associated Press dispatch last night:

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 15.—The Gulf storm which has been passing over the Gulf of Mexico since Wednesday, has been watched closely here. The hurricane signal is flying here as a warning to shipping, but the weather bureau since morning has been emphatic that the storm would strike inland to the east of Galveston. The tide here tonight is normal, and no uneasiness is felt for Galveston Island. It would not be surprising if several Galveston steamers put into Key West or Pensacola within the next day or two for repairs as a result of having been in the storm off Fort Eads in the early part of the week. Steamers which left here on Aug. 9 might have passed it, or they might have run into it. The Mallory steamer Neuses, which was due from New York on Wednesday, had not arrived this evening. The steamer Ceres left here on Aug. 9 for Rotterdam with a cargo of wheat.

The steamer Altmere, which left for Havre with 18,000 bushels of wheat on Aug. 9, may also have encountered the storm.

On Aug. 10 the steamer Fenore left for Havre with 18,000 bushels of wheat and miscellaneous cargo. Enidwen, with 138,367 bushels of wheat for Antwerp, and the Blodwen with 135,000 bushels of wheat for Rotterdam.

Two sailed on Aug. 12—the Selma with a full cargo of wheat for Hamburg and the Harrison line steamer Orion with a full general cargo for Liverpool.

Only by the assurance of the officials and the assuring course of its progress, quite a large number of the more timid left on the afternoon and night trains for inland points, to remain until all signs of the storm have disappeared.

The lowest point reached by the barometer since the storm was announced at 5 p. m. today, when it indicated 29.5. Since then it has gradually risen, and at 9 o'clock tonight was 30.2. Wind since midnight has veered to the northeast, and its velocity is ten miles per hour. The tides are normal, the Gulf is not turbulent, and weather officials state no danger exists for the city to-night. Some apprehension is felt here for New Orleans, which is believed to be in the path of the storm.

The indications are that the storm will move northward into the Mississippi Valley.

CALIFORNIA CLOUD BURST.

Immense Damage and Tracks Washed Away at Tehachaphi.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 16.—A terrible cloudburst occurred at Tehachaphi, doing an immense amount of damage. All connections by wire, telephone and telegraph are severed, and it is impossible to obtain particulars. Four or five washouts resulted and the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Railroad trains are detained here until the track is in shape for traffic. Crews of men are at work repairing the damage. It is reported that two inches of rain fell in half an hour.

TAKES LAW IN OWN HANDS.

Attorney Captures a Man Who Had Jumped Bond and Returns Him to Belleville.

James Code, an escaped prisoner under indictment in the St. Clair County Circuit Court at Belleville, Ill., on a charge of larceny and burglary, was captured at Johnson City, Marion County, Ill., Thursday and returned to Belleville.

The capture of Code was made by Attorney Thomas Webb, who had been the prisoner's counsel and also his bondsman when he was first arrested, more than 12 months ago. Attorney Webb, who was compelled to pay $200 to the circuit court because of Code's failure to appear for trial at the November, 1900, term of court, has been on the trail of the man ever since he escaped from Constable W. B. Davis in Belleville in April last. A few days ago Webb heard that Code was working at Johnson City, and Wednesday night he went there and found him at work at a mine, effected his arrest, without aid and brought him back to Belleville Thursday.

In July, 1900, Code broke into a store at Alma, Ill., and stole a quantity of clothing. "When the day arrived for Code's trial he did not appear. His bond was consequently declared forfeited and Attorney Webb was compelled to pay $200."

Then at Mr. Webb's instance Constable Davis arrested Code at O'Fallon. This was in April last.

Code again escaped and since that time nothing has been heard of him until a few days ago, when Attorney Webb learned that he was at Johnson City.

ALTON BOOMERS CALL.

World's Fair and City Carnival Advocates Exchange Compliments.

World's Fair headquarters were enlivened Friday morning by a visit from the Alton Carnival boomers, headed by Mayor A. W. Young.

Before they departed Secretary Stevens announced that representatives of the Alton Carnival would visit Alton next Thursday to attend the carnival.

The following telegram was received at headquarters Friday morning: "The International Brotherhood of Carriers in session at Birmingham, Ala., today unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing the World's Fair and City Carnival, and in support of President McKinley's proclamation informing the nations of the world of the coming fair, is expected to be issued within the next 24 hours."

A question of vital importance is agitating the baseball world. Is Johnny McLaughlin, otherwise Johnny Burkett and also Terry McGovern, a mascot or a hood?

Since that young gentleman has been promoted to a uniform and the high degree of official mascot for the Cardinals, the latter have done nothing but experience defeat.

Had Hahn and Tannehill inflicted the defeats of the past two games, since which contests Johnny has put a ban upon League Park, there might be no murmur, an easy chance of Raymer's, and in the ninth, while again peaching on Nichols' territory, he let Childs fly get away from him.

Nichols, who always stands back when the king comes into his preserves, waiting for some crumb of glory to come his way, had to field the ball after the agency of the Cardinals' pitcher, the situation could have been reversed, the situation could have been reversed, the situation could have been reversed.

The influence, too, was maliciously playful. It allowed the St. Louis men time and again to get within sight of the score, then, when the hopes of the bleachers were at their highest, it would put a blight on the whole affair and end it in smoke.

It has been said that the Cardinals were nothing more than the inability of the Cardinals to play ball; but it may be more charitable to blame the blame and lay to the credit of Johnny.

St. Louisans Were Impotent.

There may have been games in which the St. Louis men showed to worse advantage, but in few have they been so impotent, seven out of nine innings the locals had a reasonable chance to score, two of which only were accepted.

Burkett and McGovern, Paul Kruger of course were the responsible parties on these occasions—chiefly Kruger, both times. In the second inning, Kruger, having doubled, scored the first run of the day on Burkett's single. In the next inning Wallace, having been passed to first on four wide ones and stolen second afterwards, was brought home by Kruger's timely drive.

But the many other chances that were overlooked were shocking baseball economy. The Donovan secured 11 hits, two more than the visitors, but could only count twice—that tells the story of the game.

Powell was the hero of many chances. John is not supposed to be in the game to bat, according to the popular interpretation of the uses of pitchers, at least, and it was really on him that on three occasions he should be asked to do something to save the country. But such was the case. In the second, fourth and sixth innings John was up with men on bases, and only once did he do anything that helped the game along. In the fourth he sacrificed. In the sixth he threw after the latter had doubled. In three other times at bat John smote the air and retired to the bench.

But the grand stand trembled beneath the atmospheric shocks. But the line Jack could get on it.

Powell was not alone in this, however. Burkett, McGovern, Kruger, Nichols and Schriver also struck out at various times. The enumeration of the mistakes of such instances, however, is monotonous.

Burkett's Playing Was Off Color.

Burkett also did some performance in the field that smacked of the backwoods. In the third he utterly failed on an easy chance of Raymer's, and in the ninth, while again peaching on Nichols' territory, he let Childs fly get away from him.

A question of vital importance is agitating the baseball world. Is Johnny McLaughlin, otherwise Johnny Burkett and also Terry McGovern, a mascot or a hood?

Since that young gentleman has been promoted to a uniform and the high degree of official mascot for the Cardinals, the latter have done nothing but experience defeat.

Had Hahn and Tannehill inflicted the defeats of the past two games, since which contests Johnny has put a ban upon League Park, there might be no murmur, an easy chance of Raymer's, and in the ninth, while again peaching on Nichols' territory, he let Childs fly get away from him.

Nichols, who always stands back when the king comes into his preserves, waiting for some crumb of glory to come his way, had to field the ball after the agency of the Cardinals' pitcher, the situation could have been reversed, the situation could have been reversed, the situation could have been reversed.

The influence, too, was maliciously playful. It allowed the St. Louis men time and again to get within sight of the score, then, when the hopes of the bleachers were at their highest, it would put a blight on the whole affair and end it in smoke.

It has been said that the Cardinals were nothing more than the inability of the Cardinals to play ball; but it may be more charitable to blame the blame and lay to the credit of Johnny.

St. Louisans Were Impotent.

There may have been games in which the St. Louis men showed to worse advantage, but in few have they been so impotent, seven out of nine innings the locals had a reasonable chance to score, two of which only were accepted.

Burkett and McGovern, Paul Kruger of course were the responsible parties on these occasions—chiefly Kruger, both times. In the second inning, Kruger, having doubled, scored the first run of the day on Burkett's single. In the next inning Wallace, having been passed to first on four wide ones and stolen second afterwards, was brought home by Kruger's timely drive.

But the many other chances that were overlooked were shocking baseball economy. The Donovan secured 11 hits, two more than the visitors, but could only count twice—that tells the story of the game.

Powell was the hero of many chances. John is not supposed to be in the game to bat, according to the popular interpretation of the uses of pitchers, at least, and it was really on him that on three occasions he should be asked to do something to save the country. But such was the case. In the second, fourth and sixth innings John was up with men on bases, and only once did he do anything that helped the game along. In the fourth he sacrificed. In the sixth he threw after the latter had doubled. In three other times at bat John smote the air and retired to the bench.

But the grand stand trembled beneath the atmospheric shocks. But the line Jack could get on it.

Powell was not alone in this, however. Burkett, McGovern, Kruger, Nichols and Schriver also struck out at various times. The enumeration of the mistakes of such instances, however, is monotonous.

Burkett's Playing Was Off Color.

Burkett also did some performance in the field that smacked of the backwoods. In the third he utterly failed on an easy chance of Raymer's, and in the ninth, while again peaching on Nichols' territory, he let Childs fly get away from him.

Wheat Advanced on Record-Breaking Clearances for Week.

CORN UP 1-1-8 CENTS

SNOW'S ESTIMATE ON THE CROP THE FACTOR.

Wheat Closed 3-4c to 1-2c Up—Oats Up With Corn—Snow Estimates Corn Crop at 1,100,000,000 Bushels.

Some of the losses sustained by grain the last two days were... Wheat closed 3-4c to 1-2c up on the record-breaking clearances for the week.

Corn advanced on had crop news and a statement from Snow placing the crop yield at low as 1,100,000,000 bu. The market closed with corn up 1-1-8c.

Oats advanced in sympathy with corn and wheat and at the close were 1-1-8c higher than yesterday.

All news on wheat was very bullish. Good weather prevailed in the harvest district of the spring wheat states. No export buying could be heard of early today.

The northwest receipts were large and the Northwest was a liberal market. Snow published in Orange and Blue Farmer a bullish report on wheat. He placed the winter wheat crop at 400,000,000 bu. while he and the thoroughbred showed winter wheat crop before than 400,000,000 bu. He estimated the spring wheat crop in Minnesota and the Dakotas at 200,000,000 bu. and in Iowa at 100,000,000 bu. in the other states, making the entire winter and spring wheat crop 700,000,000 bu.

All this was bullish, but the foreign cables were surprisingly steady after the big American export yesterday. Liverpool closed only 1-1-2c lower and London off 1-4c.

So wheat opened here 1-1-2c higher, but the bear news brought out an immense lot of long wheat, and the market drifted back to 1-1-4c yesterday. Then a rally set in, with wheat prices reaching 1-1-8c.

The foreign wheat demand has held up prices for some time. Liverpool has been holding up wheat and flour export. Last week they were 1-1-2c to 1-1-4c.

The foreign wheat demand has held up prices for some time. Liverpool has been holding up wheat and flour export. Last week they were 1-1-2c to 1-1-4c.

September wheat opened this morning 1-1-4c off at 7-15c, and without a check sold down to 7-10c, and the price went up to 7-12c closing with 7-14c, a gain of 2c over yesterday. Thereafter it held up at 7-14c, sold down to 7-12c, and rallied to 7-14c, which was bid at the close. An advance of 1-4c.

One sale of May was made at 7-10c, and the close bid was 7-10c.

ROOMS WITH BATHS

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a small dark spot near the top center. The right edge of the page is heavily shadowed and appears to be part of a bound volume.
